The Primate's World Relief and Development Fund

Vision

A truly just, healthy and peaceful world.

Mission Statement

As an instrument of faith, PWRDF connects Anglicans in Canada to communities around the world in dynamic partnerships to advance development, to respond to emergencies, to assist refugees, and to act for positive change.

Organization

The Primate's World Relief and Development Fund is an incorporated organization working in close cooperation with The Anglican Church of Canada, and serving as its international development and relief ministry. PWRDF is governed by an elected Board of Directors, including the Primate of Canada, a bishop, members of the clergy and laity, as well as Indigenous and youth partners. The Board of Directors meets twice yearly with additional work being done by standing committees and working groups. Every diocese may appoint a voting member to annual general meetings and specially called meetings of members. As a separately incorporated organization, PWRDF has observer status with General Synod, as well as cooperating with the relevant Standing Committees of General Synod.

PWRDF provides financial and technical assistance support to Indigenous and international partners working in Canada and overseas. At the same time, PWRDF staff resource a network of diocesan and parish representatives with education, information, communications, theological reflection, and outreach activities in close to 1800 parishes across Canada. Parishes from across Canada respond generously to the work of PWRDF in Canada and overseas through individual donations, special events, bequests, and planned giving, which together provide the core funding for PWRDF activities. The Department of Foreign Affairs, Industry and Development provides approximately one third of PWRDF's funding requirements with some additional, smaller amounts coming from the Manitoba Council for International Cooperation and the Saskatchewan Council for International Cooperation, in the provinces of Manitoba and Saskatchewan respectively.

Federally incorporated, as of May 30, 2000, under the Canada Corporations Act, as: The Primate's World Relief and Development Fund/ Le fond du Primat pour le secours et le développement mondial. File #376624-1.
